

Showing Our True Colors

Appreciating Differences

■ ■ ■ ■ It's a good thing we are not all alike

Each of us has our own style, preferences and ways operating—so how can we all work together effectively? True Colors® is a simple method for gaining insights into why people behave as they do. This interactive, fun-filled workshop helps you bring relationships and job satisfaction to a whole new level as you express your own uniqueness and increase your understanding of others.

Learn how to turn irritation into appreciation and conflict into cooperation by opening up lines of communication, reducing conflicts and bringing out the best in everyone.

■ ■ ■ ■ How it works

- Determine the elements that are important for a great work environment and healthy working relationships
- Identify characteristics that make up your own unique personality and discover ones you have in common or contrary to others
- Explore your own strengths, stressors and values as well as those of others and discover how to use this information to enhance relationships and increase your personal effectiveness
- Interact with others to discover the hidden intent behind “difficult” behavior and learn to relate with all kinds of people, even those you’ve had problems with in the past
- Gain respect, cooperation and cohesion in individual, team, and organizational relationships
- Have fun getting to know each other better!

“True Colors has become a key component of our ‘Learning Environment’ program and it the heart of our teambuilding and diversity training...

We now realize that its is a good thing we are not all just alike”
